As us about our full line of International menus, featuring "Hallacas"

[ay-YAH-kahs]

Hailing from Venezuela, hallacas are South America's version of TAMALES. They consist of ground beef, pork or chicken mixed with other foods such as cheese, olives or raisins, surrounded by a ground-corn dough, wrapped in banana leaves and gently boiled. Hallacas are served as both an appetizer and main dish.

To learn more about it, please visit our web site: <http://www.bartendergirl.com/hallacas.htm>
